The fame of the Côte de Beaune vineyard is closely related to its capital Beaune, which is the true historical and economic center of burgundy wine.

The burgundy has been in existence since the second half of the first century A.C. What makes the characteristic of burgundy is the complex composition of its soil, which can vary from one patch to another and thus lend a specific character to each vineyard..

Tasting in a wine-growing property

Visit to the property cellars including 3 vintage tasting. For those who don't want to taste, fruit juices will be available. What does not remove the charm of the tasting which will be focused on the wine odors and colors.

Lunch in a private castle, in the Côte de Beaune

In burgundy, in the heart of the Côte de Beaune, the famous Savigny-lès-Beaune castle welcomes you for a private lunch in its dining rooms..

This site dominates a splendid property of 12 hectares, crossed by a river, which, originally, fed the moats of this old fortress.

You will join the entire group and occupy the first floor of the caste, this being 2 to 3 dining rooms. The entire menu will be accompanied by the regional vintage.

Visit to Beaune hospitals

The Hôtel Dieu was one the most beautiful hospitals founded in the Middle Age. For 500 years its extraordinary interior court and multicolored roofs have continued to welcome its visitors in a little paradise! Those multicolored roofs have become one of the burgundy symbols.

Visit to Beaune city

The origins of Beaune go back to the Gallo-Roman era, where it was already a great wine-growing place. The current ramparts date from the 15th century

Beaune, universally known by wine amateurs, is also known as one of the French gastronomic capitals. First and foremost Beaune is a medieval city with a vast historical background, where each pedestrian mall and each building, accentuate the richness of the past.
