

Transportation

Dijon is strategically located to the south of Paris (350 Km) and to the north of Lyon (180 Km). There are several possibilities to arrive to Dijon:

By plane

There is no international airport in Dijon. Participants are encouraged to come to Paris or Lyon and then to take a train or rent a car. Paris Charles de Gaulle and Lyon Saint-Exupéry airports are the closest international airports to Dijon. Please check the offers noted at the following URLs for flight and train prices (<http://www.sncf.fr>)

By rail

Daily TGV connections:

- Paris <-> Dijon : in 1 hour 35 minutes, it costs around 100 Euros (return included)
- Lyon <->Dijon : in 1 hour 30 minutes, it costs around 70 Euros (return included)
- Lausanne <-> Dijon : in 2 hours, it costs around 75 Euros (return included)

From Paris Charles de Gaulle - Roissy Airport: one daily direct TGV connection.

By road

Fast motorway access from:

- Paris (A6): 350 KM
- Lyon (A6): 185 KM
- Lille-Belgium (A26 - A5):
- Metz-Luxembourg (A31):
- Strasbourg-Germany (A36):
- Geneva (A40 - A39)

Parking: is available on and around the Campus.

Inside Dijon

It is very well linked to the Dijon downtown and the campus by bus. The bus network is considered one of the best in France.

- 18 lines during daytime
- 6 lines in the evening
- Over 900 stops throughout the Dijon area
- Pick-up every 6 to 8 minutes on the main bus lines

Ticket, pass or card to choose:

- The one way ticket (0.9 Euro): Sold on board by the bus driver, this ticket enables you to travel on the network for one hour, from the moment you stamp it.
- The one-day pass (2,70 Euros): This ticket allows you to travel for 24 hours on the network once stamped. It is available at the Dijon Tourist Board and the bus station located Place Grangier.
- The Week Card (7,60 Euros): This card allows you to travel on the whole bus network during one week.